From time to time, we may have a photographer with us to capture the magic of the dining experience. Any photos or videos they take are for our use only, perfect for sharing our creations and memories online, and aren't for guests to use or share without our written permission.

We're always happy to help take group photos on your own phone or camera, just let us know! We ask that these are done after the service has finished, so everyone can relax and enjoy the experience without interruptions.
